

40.230.080 INDUSTRIAL DISTRICTS (ML, MH)

- A. Purpose. The light industrial (ML) and heavy industrial (MH) districts provide for a wide range of industrial and manufacturing uses including manufacturing, assembly, fabrication, processing, and related research and development; mineral and resource extraction and processing; bulk handling and storage (warehousing); and truck, marine, and rail distribution. The regulations in this section are intended to establish appropriate development and performance standards for industrial activities with the greatest potential for adverse impacts to minimize the presence of nuisance factors and hazards. The regulations in this section are intended to protect the industrial land base for industrial economic development and employment opportunities by limiting residential, institutional, commercial, office and other non-industrial uses to those necessary for the convenience/support of industrial activities. The regulations in this section also apply to industrial lands outside the urban growth areas.
1. Light Industrial District (ML). The light industrial district is intended to provide for those less-intensive industrial uses which produce little noise, odor and pollution. It also provides for resource-based uses and service uses that are deemed compatible with light industrial uses.
 2. Heavy Industrial District (MH). The heavy industrial district is intended to preserve, enhance and create areas containing industrial and manufacturing activities which are potentially incompatible with most other uses, and is appropriate for areas which have extensive rail or shipping facilities.
- B. Uses. The following chart is a list of allowable uses in the ML and MH districts:
1. "P" Uses allowed subject to approval of applicable permits.
 2. "C" Conditional uses which may be permitted, subject to the approval of a Conditional Use Permit as set forth in Section 40.520.030.
 3. "X" Uses specifically prohibited.
 4. The following list of permitted uses is based on the North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS). NAICS is organized in a hierarchical structure much like the existing SIC (Standard Industrial Classification). NAICS industries are identified by a 6-digit code, in contrast to the 4-digit SIC code. The longer code accommodates the larger number of sectors and allows more flexibility in designating subsectors. The use of NAICS codes for permitted uses refers only to the use of a particular site, rather than the type of industry involved. For example, office uses for manufacturing firms are treated as offices and are not permitted in the industrial zones.
 - The first two digits designate a major economic sector (formerly division) such as agriculture or manufacturing.
 - The third digit designates an economic subsector (formerly major group) such as crop production or apparel manufacturing.
 - The fourth digit designates an industry group, such as grain and oil seed farming or fiber, yarn and thread mills.
 - The fifth digit designates the NAICS industry such as wheat farming or broadwoven fabric mills.
 5. Retail uses are marked with a "1" in Table 40.230.080-1 below. See the footnotes at the end of the table for an explanation of permitted development.

Where commercial/service uses are approved, a note shall be placed on the final site plan indicating the cumulative amount of the commercial/service area that has been approved and the residual amount that is available for use.

² (Reserved for future use).

³ Permitted only in association with a use permitted in the ML or MH districts unless publicly acquired for such use prior to October 24, 2000.

⁴ (Reserved for future use).

⁵ The repair and maintenance subsector does not include all establishments that do repair and maintenance. For example, a substantial amount of repair is done by establishments that also manufacture machinery, equipment and other goods. These establishments are included in the manufacturing sector in NAICS. In addition, repair of transportation equipment is often provided by or based at transportation facilities, such as airports, seaports, and these activities are included in the transportation and warehousing sector.

Excluded from this subsector are establishments primarily engaged in rebuilding or remanufacturing machinery and equipment. These are classified in Sector 31-33, Manufacturing. Also excluded are retail establishments that provide after-sale services and repair. These are classified in Sector 44-45, Retail trade.

⁶ Subject to the provisions of Section 40.250.020.

⁸ Subject to the provisions of Chapter 40.260.200. (Solid Waste Handling and Disposal Sites)

⁹ See Table 40.260.250-1.

C. Development standards

1. New lots and structures and additions to structures subject to this section shall comply with the applicable standards for lots, building height, setbacks and building separation in Table 40.230.080-2, subject to the provisions of Chapter 40.200 and Section 40.550.020. Site plan review is required for all new development and modifications to existing permitted development unless expressly exempted by this title (see Section 40.520.040).

2. Venting Standards. The venting of odors, vapors, smoke, cinders, dust, gas, and fumes shall be directed away from residential uses within fifty (50) feet of the vent.
3. Major Odor Sources.
 - a. When an application is made for a use which is determined to be a major odor source, the applicant shall:
 - (1) Demonstrate that the odor abatement for the project shall comply with the best available control technology for odor control;
 - (2) The emissions will not exceed SWCAA General Regulations.
 - b. Uses which involve the following odor-emitting processes or activities shall be considered major odor sources:

- a. Except for exterior lighting, operations producing heat and glare shall be conducted entirely within an enclosed building.
 - b. Exterior lighting shall be shielded and directed away from lots in adjacent uses.
 - c. Interior lighting in parking structures shall be shielded, to minimize nighttime glare affecting lots in adjacent uses.
 - d. When nonconforming exterior lighting is replaced, new lighting shall conform to the requirements of this section.
 - e. Glare diagrams which clearly identify potential adverse glare impacts on any residential zone and on arterials shall be required when:
 - (1) Any structure is proposed to have facades of reflective coated glass or other highly reflective material, and/or a new structure or expansion of an existing structure greater than sixty-five (65) feet in height is proposed to have more than thirty percent (30%) of the facades comprised of clear or tinted glass; and when glare diagrams are required, the director may require modification of the plans to mitigate adverse impacts, using methods including but not limited to the following:
